“ I remember riding with Papa to the grocery store years ago to get stuff to make dinner. The entire time he was driving he made Semi noises as though he was driving a semi. It made me laugh so much. I felt true happiness in that moment and I will never forget the times I had with him.

“ Bill said he remembers the time Dave took kitchen matches from his house to start a campfire but he put them in his backpocket of his jeans and the matches caught on fire and burned his butt. And it blew the backpocket off of his pants.
