On Wednesday, July 29, Henry John Frischknecht Jr, 62, son, brother, uncle, employer and beloved friend peacefully transitioned to his next adventure.

Henry grew up in Wayne, NJ then married and moved to NY.

Henry's friends describe him as "generous to a fault", "caring", "tough when needed" "treated us like a father" and "an incredible mentor". Henry's influence had a positive effect on so many. His crew would say "he was well loved, he worked right alongside us, he was loved and respected and took pride in all he did".

“ Henry you were such a fun, caring and loving young man who liked to stay on the telephone for hours when we were young and each others world. When I was moving with my family to California, you came to see me and to talk. I still remember that conversation today. So many years went by before we reconnected again. We talked about that conversation so many years ago both recalling what was said. I pray your soul continues to grow and look forward to our next conversation. ,To all your family especially Hank and Deborah, I am so sorry for your pain, with time tears will turn to remember when stories. With much love Jeanne Marion t
